

Non-Sterile Art Happenings was a pop-up exhibition space where artist collaborator Mo Kwok and I presented artwork that we completed that year. Our show featured a series of portraits, paintings, photography, participatory drawings, and DIY neon lights! Our intention was to curate a democratic and collaborative art space. The venue for this show was a U-HAUL truck parked on Appian Way in Cambridge, MA. The U-HAUL served as an unconventional, neutral art space for participants to interact in and around. Local musicians and spoken word artists graciously lent their talents to this event with incredible performances.

The original Non-Sterile Kickstarter page
The original Non-Sterile Facebook event page